Original Upcycled Garments

Historic Italian sportswear brand, Sergio Tacchini has teamed up with Paris based brand, Andrea Crews to create an exclusive capsule that combines Sergio Tacchini's iconic garments with the upcycling philosophy of Andrea Crews.

Creating original and unique garments from the reproduction of tennis wear from the eighties, and upcycling, the designers have created two colour tracks tops by combining different variants of the same top. Coming in a white and navy, and a white and royal colourway, the pieces are perfect for the summer.

The capsule also includes an original, and limited poncho, obtained by combining two track tops, turning the necks into sleeves, and the sleeves into a hood.
